Watershed Council Potluck

Each year in December we gather with our watershed neighbors to celebrate our accomplishments together from the last year and gather thanks for the many great things we have in our watershed. Join us this year at the Deadwood Community Center to break bread with our watershed neighbors and supporters!

Please bring a dish to share and consider bringing a label with ingredients folks may be sensitive to (label gluten free, vegan, etc.). We'll begin gathering at 5:30, and at 6 we'll sit down together to share a meal. At 6:15 we'll begin with a message from our Executive Director, then hear from Watershed Council Staff about some major accomplishments over the last year. We'll also be awarding the Spirit of Siuslaw Award!

At the end of our presentation, we'd like to invite watershed members and supporters to share in an open mic, stories from the Siuslaw, art, poetry, or music which our natural landscape has inspired!!

Wed, December 4, 2019 5:30 PM – 8:30 PM PST

Please RSVP to the Watershed Council

2020 Plant Giveaway

The Siuslaw Watershed Council has given away thousands of free native plants annually to hundreds of stream and lakeside community members throughout the Siuslaw and Coastal Lakes Watersheds since 2000! If you have a creek flowing through your back yard, or live along one of our scenic lakes, you may be eligible to receive free native plants from the Watershed Council to help support water quality and fish habitat in your own backyard.

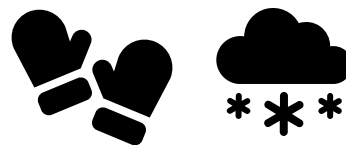

Planting along streams help reduce erosion, filter nutrients, and keep the water cool for salmon, trout and other aquatic animals. Native plants are adapted to specific site conditions; we have some resources available to help you identify which ones will thrive alongside the creek or lake in your backyard. If it seems intimidating to spend all the time and effort to plant and maintain these plants over time, we can help! Siuslaw Watershed Council staff are available to advise you on plant selection and placement. There is optional planting and maintenance assistance available free of cost to community members--this service is paid for through grant funding and private donations.

Supplies are limited—fill out the request form using the link below to order your plants now! Priority is given to requests placed prior to December 15th, although we will accept requests after this date. Your free native plants will be available for pick up on Saturday, February 15th, 2020 at multiple locations throughout the area.

For more information, visit www.siuslaw.org, call 541-268-3044, or e-mail nativeplants@siuslaw.org.

This project is made possible through a grant from the Coast Range Stewardship Fund from the Siuslaw National Forest and private individual donations.

what role does destiny play(if there is such a thing) in the daily drama of our individual and collective lives? was i "destined"to encounter a parade of personalities to guide me down such an array of paths? whew! for my part i certainly seemed to choose the "one less traveled". in the cold rain of a deadwood winter, that marvelous sunny day in the green grass of summer brings little actual heat, and yet it sustains us as we look forward to another...somewhere in what we call "the future". how did i get here??? go ask alice...i think she'll know.

blame or credit the answer lies in the shifting attitude toward an event already claimed as history, yet carried along like a wrench in a toolbox, allowing us to make adjustments to our view of a past event according to the present circumstances. and thus the future impinges on the past...everything interconnected as the circle rolls along like a wheel--past,present, future, all one. Submitted by James Webb
