Deadwood Food Coop Standard Information

The Deadwood Co-op is a food buying club of Deadwood area members. Established in the 1970's and run by volunteers, we bring natural, whole, organic, and local foods to Deadwood. We order six times yearly: Ordering information can be found in the Deadwood Trading Post under the Food Coop tab.

If you are a new member you will need the passwords to the catalogs.

Contact Yvonne Pappagallo (541-964-5581) for those. Orders w/checks should be dropped off either at Kaki and Billy Burruss's (in the red cooler in carport) or Yvonne and Harry's mailbox @ 93159 Deadwood Crk Rd. Next order is upcoming in April.

I could not see him
That fluttering fly-off bird....
But the plum-petals....

Shiki (1866-1902)

Utagawa Hiroshige (1847) Submitted by Kaki Burruss

The world keeps spinning while we try to keep track of time
A blossom or a bumble bee, both seasons changing signs

Daisies sprout reaching for the sun
Another cycle completing as the next has already begun

Nettles emerge through the rocks on an island in a stream
Birds waking chirps serenade morning dreams

Physically free in a race to find the mind
The world keeps spinning
While we try to keep track of time

The New Curmudgeon echoes of the future

Fear, anger and frustration!!! I'm worn out with just coping and seeing so many things going in a direction, socially, that seems counter to any hope of peace. I'm really feeling beaten down by it. We live in such a bubble here and it's so fragile. There's really no place to run. We're such a tiny spec of sensibility in a world awash with hatred...and here we are shooting each other??? I'm feeling sad and trying to prop up my resolve. In this raging dichotomy, we want to believe that "good" will triumph in the end, but it's much more complex than that. Is the paradigm of mutual respect among humans still intact? Anywhere? "Where the myth fails, human love begins. Then we love a human being, not our dreams, but a human being with faults." Anais Nin. We suffer delusions about the totality around us, our greatest limitation being one of perception. The fleeting urgencies of the present and the hopes and fears of our human lives always blurs our vision. Here we are, constantly fretted by these diversions, living our lives out in this sliver of spacetime allotted to us by chance, as, far beyond the dimness of our sun, galaxies are colliding in a massive swarm of interpenetrating and exploding catastrophes. The molecules that we know now are being swept away in a slow and steady wind. What we give forth as an expression of our time here and what we absorb of it defines our character= to live deliberately, in proper harmony with nature before we return our borrowed stardust with some dignity.
