Deadwood May Day Run, May 5th, 2013

Come run, walk, ride and eat pancakes with friends at the Deadwood Community Center during the annual May Day Run. The Run will begin at 10:00 AM and a pancake breakfast and spring garden plant exchange will follow. All parts of the event are free and fun for individuals or families. Hope to see you there!

There were no incident reports filed with DNW in April.

A resident along highway 36 requested DNW Patrol for one week while they were away.

The CARE team continues to provide neighborly home care to the community where needed. Currently we are helping two neighbors .

To report an incident, or need for CARE, contact Marina (3497) or Keith (3502)

NEXT MEETNG of DNW is the second Thursday of the month, MAY 9, at 6:30 p.m. at the Community Center.

HELL BENT FOR HEAVEN

If you want to get to heaven let me tell you how to do it.
Just grease yourself with mutton suet.
You'll slide right out of the Devil's hand
And slide right into the Promised Land.
Go easy. Go greasy.

Ask Mary

How can I make the salt run out of the shaker?

Add a few grains of rice to the shaker.
The rice will absorb the excess moisture.
If you have very coarse damp salt, dry it out in the oven for a while then add the rice.
Got a little problem? Send your question to Ask Mary, deadwoodditto@yahoo.com

Tales From the Tunnel
By Mark "The Paper Guy"

The Heist

One cold, rainy, foggy night I was toilessly tooling down the "tree-lined tunnel of treachery" when I turned onto Nelson Mt Rd. About a mile in I came around a curve and abruptly encountered a huge bush completely across the road. Time to assess, evaluate and if possible, execute a solution. So I got out and deemed it doable. I pulled out my trusty saw, Bo, and with surgical precision cut enough to squeeze on by. So, up the road I went, did my thing, and headed back to Hwy 36. As I slipped by the bush again, a deep sense of gratification swept over me knowing the patrons on Nelson Mt would be getting their funny papers.

These warm feelings were short lived, soon replaced by bewilderment. As I turned onto Hwy 36 I noticed scrapes and divots zigzagging back and forth across the blacktop. This went on through the bustling hamlet of Greenleaf and beyond for at least another mile. Then I saw something large in the road. It was raining very hard and I wasn't quite able to tell what it was. I got my light, Spot, out and into the weather I went. Turns out it was a large door to a safe. Ah ha! We've got a heist!

I tried the tumblers & handle; they worked fine. Where's the safe? I looked but could not find. The door was too heavy for me to get it off the road, so off I went to finish my paper run. On my way back down, I figured I should try again to get that door off the road; it was quite a traffic hazard. As I got closer, through the fog I could see there was a pickup truck on the side of the road and the safe door was gone! What was going on here?

Then out of the woods came a big guy with a flashlight and a rifle. "Whoa! Paper Guy, Paper Guy!"

He said someone backed up to his barn, hooked up the safe and drove off. He lost the trail at Nelson Mt. I told him there were no marks down Nelson Mt Rd and there was a big bush blocking the way. He said all that was in the safe were old papers and he would call the sheriff. We both scratched our heads on how the door came off, and I went on my way.

It took the County two days to clear that bush off the road and, low and behold, what did they find at the base of it... the safe. I can only surmise that the heavy metal box hooked onto the bush causing the culprits to abandon it. Two days after that, the safe was gone.

Not one of my average nights on the job.

Making peace with conflict doesn't mean you don't ever fight for what you want or what you believe in. It does, however, suggest you're a bit more selective about what you choose to fight about.

Harvard researchers have concluded after careful scientific studies that Coca-Cola is not an effective spermicide.

The green grove is gone from the hills, Maggie,
Where once the daisies sprung,
And the creaking old mill is still, Maggie,
Since you and I were young.

It was early in the morning.
Myrtle and iris were in bloom,
When down the hill came a cortege.
It was there we laid her in her tomb.

They ask what makes this poor boy weep,
Why he like others is not gay?
They ask why tears roll down his cheeks
From early morn to end of day?

He is weeping for a loved one
Whose days on earth was done
In a brief but shining life span
Almost over before it began.

Another tearjerker

“Hello, central, give me Heaven,
“For my mother’s there.
You will find her with the angels
Climbing up the golden stairs.”

Excuse me while I dry my eyes.

There are no words in the dictionary that rhyme with: orange, purple, and month! Interesting tries from our readers: orange: door hinge, melange (French for mix) purple: hurtle, durple?, turtle month: once, bunth?, hunch

I'm a Lorax, I speak for the Land
All I hear is save us! U can.

Deep inside U know U shouldn't spray!
Look the bright colored algae at Bay.

So we all ask U Please,
Don't spray the poor trees

We really don't need a shootout
Just need the rapist to get out!

Where is everyone with their wits?
Please, we don't want to throw fits!

So now we're on our knees,
We ask AGAIN! Don't spray US.. please!.

Happy Mother's Day

NO-PANTS DAY

Since its mysterious beginnings around 1986, No-Pants Day (observed on the first Friday in May) has been gaining popularity, especially among college students and other young people. The holiday is simple—men and women shed their trousers and wear only underwear from the waist down. Celebrants from around the world can be viewed on NoPantsDay.com.

ALASKA - More than half of the coastline of the entire United States is in Alaska.

AMAZON - The Amazon rain forest produces more than 20% the world's oxygen supply. The Amazon River pushes so much water into the Atlantic Ocean that, more than one hundred miles at sea, off the mouth of the river, one can dip fresh water out of the ocean. The volume of water in the Amazon river is greater than the next eight largest rivers in the world combined and three times the flow of all rivers in the United States.

Yoga literally means union or yoke, to join, to unite. There are a great variety of yoga classes taught throughout the world offering a broad variety of ways in which we can "unite". Yoga is an evolving science. In a present day Hatha Yoga class of physical Asanas we re-learn how to use our bodies in a unified way, integrating our shoulders, hips and back into better alignment for greater strength, ease and grace. When our internal structure, the bones of our skeleton, are lined up correctly, by training our muscular system with new habits, the rest of our organs can sit in right relation with each other. Digestion improves, Blood pressure improves, Immune system improves, and the Mind gets quieter. With everything functioning better, more joy and clarity become available.

Saturday, May 18 "Third Saturday" with

The Michael Anderson Trio

The Deadwood Creek Community Center welcomes back famed area musician Michael Anderson on Saturday, May 18, for the "Third Saturday" monthly live music, dinner, and dance. The Michael Anderson Trio features Stan Becraft on drums, Gene Douma on bass and vocals, and Michael Anderson on guitar and vocals. Michael has traveled internationally backing artists as well as playing styles of music from Country to Rock to Jazz, Folk, and Rhythm and Blues. He's worked in video and radio production and as a session musician on numerous albums by local artists. His experience shows with soulful singing and jazz-influenced guitar riffs. Michael's association with Gene Douma, bass and vocalist goes back a long way, to the '80's. Gene's has worked locally with many bands over the years, including Coupe DeVille. He has a very unique, supportive style of playing that makes the group seem larger than it is, and is always right on the spot with lead vocals and harmonies. Stan Becraft on drums is a Eugene fixture for many years who's worked with Mr. Wizard, Big Monti, and L.A. Wrecking Crew drummer Hal Blaine. He brings a great time and playful inventiveness to the trio. The trio plays everything from Frank Sinatra to Classic Rock, with great musicianship, harmony, and humor. Their versatile music will fill the Deadwood Creek Community Center with plenty of rhythm for the listeners and the dancers. Come join this family friendly event in the the springtime - beautiful country setting with a delicious dinner for sale starting at 6:30. Music starts at 7:30. The Center is located 4.3 miles up Deadwood Creek Rd. off HWY 36. A sliding scale donation is appreciated at the door for the band. Call 541-964-5031 for more info.
