

Keep Rural Oregon Connected

Americans across the country are coming together to tell the Postmaster General and the United States Congress that the postal service is about much more than making a profit -- it's about communication and community.

Tues. Aug. 28th
6:30 pm
Deadwood
Community Center

We need to keep rural Oregon connected, we need good paying jobs, and we need our Constitutionally-guaranteed postal service of, for and by the people. We care about our community and we care about our post office.

Speaker: Jamie Partridge, Postal Road Warrior, retired mailman
Organizer, Rural Organizing Project

1. What's with Congress and the Postmaster General?
2. How are local communities fighting back and winning?
3. What can we do here to save our post offices? DEADWOOD, SWISS HOME, MAPLETON

Sponsors: Rural Organizing Project, Communities & Postal Workers United
For more information, contact the Rural Organizing Project at 503-543-8417 or jessica@rop.org

Keep Rural Oregon Connected

Americans across the country are coming together to tell the Postmaster General and the United States Congress that the postal service is about much more than making a profit -- it's about communication and community.

Tues. Aug. 28th
6:30 pm
Deadwood
Community Center

We need to keep rural Oregon connected, we need good paying jobs, and we need our Constitutionally-guaranteed postal service of, for and by the people. We care about our community and we care about our post office.

Speaker: Jamie Partridge, Postal Road Warrior, retired mailman
Organizer, Rural Organizing Project

1. What's with Congress and the Postmaster General?
2. How are local communities fighting back and winning?
3. What can we do here to save our post office? DEADWOOD, SWISS HOME, MAPLETON

Sponsors: Rural Organizing Project, Communities & Postal Workers United
For more information, contact the Rural Organizing Project at 503-543-8417 or jessica@rop.org